In the eighth issue of the Journal of Tourism and Identity, volume 5 - number 1, we present two articles and a bibliographical review. The first article characterizes the motivations and conditions of mobility of tourists and national visitors in the Lakes District (Región de Los Lagos) in southern Chile; the Chilean authors use a quantitative perspective for the exploratory research. The second article proposes an update of the ten-year tourism development plan for the municipality of Barrancabermeja in Santander, Colombia; the methodology used in the research, by the Colombian author, contains a diagnosis with secondary sources and fieldwork that includes interaction with actors in the sector, interviews, workshops and a survey. The bibliographic review is about the book 'Planificación turística I: Formulación. Reflexiones desde el oeste argentino'.

We continue with our commitment to evaluate through double blind refereeing the articles we publish and we highlight the fact that we are part of prestigious indexing agencies and search catalogs.

We would like to thank all the members of the journal who participated in the production of this issue and all the researchers interested in being part of our publication.
