

EDITORIAL

This volume, number 29, presents scientific contributions dealing with the field of Universal History and related sciences. These latter approach issues belonging to the Ancient world and Modernity. In Articles, the following texts are included:

From Virgil to Tolkien: Mythopoeia as the Divine origin of the Homeland in the construction of the identity of Western Civilization, by Roberto Lucas Gabriel Magni Galdeano;

Health, Disease, Folk Healing, and Imaginaries in the Territorial Stage of Formosa: Records from the Print Media (1916-1941, by Elian Rodolfo Uzain;

Heaven or Paradise in the Homilies of Saint Basil: text and context of the proposal, by Elena María Calderón de Cuervo;

The Korean War and the Genesis of the Sino-Indian Confrontation, by Ricardo Pedro Címoli.

Vivana Boch PhD

Director of Revista de Historia Universal